

HOSTILITIES WERE ENDED A YEAR AGO

Seymour Quietly Celebrates Signing of Armistice Which Brought World War to a Close.

LEGIONARIES TO BANQUET

Service Men Here to Observe The Event Tonight—Dance is Arranged for Tonight.

Today marks the first anniversary of the signing of the armistice. Local people will long remember the joy and happiness that was carried by the brief announcement that hostilities on all fronts had ceased. The news came to The Republican about 2 o'clock in the morning on November 11, just a year ago, and within a few seconds the whistles of the engines at the Baltimore & Ohio railroad yards were going full blast as notice to the people of the city and surrounding community that fighting in Europe had stopped.

Armistice Day is not recalled without at least giving a little thought to the premature announcement which came a week before the official message was flashed over the cables and by wireless. The unofficial message came about 11 o'clock in the morning and within a few minutes the city "had gone mad." But the premature celebration did not take place only in Seymour. The news was carried throughout the United States and even in France and England there were demonstrations. How the message originated and how it was later withdrawn after it had been sent to the United States is history with which most local people are familiar.

The premature celebration, however, did not detract from the real observance. In this city the demonstration by the public did not take place until two nights after the official message was received, but when the city "did turn loose" a celebration was staged that will long be remembered as one of the crowning events of festive attempts in Jackson county.

During the last year the Seymour and Jackson county service men who were in the ranks either abroad or in this country have returned home and most of them are again engaged in their former vocations or have taken up new lines of work. The last year has seen the organization in this city of the American Legion, an organization composed of former service men. The celebration of Armistice Day is in the hands of the Legion.

The Legionaries had no desire for a big celebration here this year. The date is too close to the trying times of a year ago and they are content to pass the day quietly in their own way. However, they desired to take recognition of the event in some manner and decided to hold a banquet. The supper will be given at the Central Christian church by the members of the Loyal Devoir. The hours will be from 6 to 8. Following the meal a program will be presented, including short talks by the members, vocal numbers and instrumental selections. Thomas M. Honan was invited to address the Legionaries. Following the banquet and program at the church the former service men will enjoy a dance at the K. of P. Hall. The public is invited to join with the boys in making the evening a merry time.

It was announced on the day that the armistice was signed that hostilities had lasted 1,567 days, that it had cost approximately 10,000,000 lives and that it had practically bankrupted not fewer than a dozen nations. It had been the most titanic conflict of all time—involving more countries, engaging more soldiers and being more destructive of life and property than any other war the world had ever seen.

A year has passed since the armistice was signed, but as far as America is concerned, the formal declaration of peace has not yet come. No one seems to know when it will come. There are signs, however, that it will be soon. Economically the world is in as bad a way as it was a year ago. It is still full

MINISTER SEEKS DISTRICT HONOR

CHAPLAIN DURING WORLD WAR

Since His Discharge From Service Lieut. Smith Has Been Engaged in Red Cross Work.

Lieut. Franklin P. Smith, who served as pastor of the Central Christian church in this city for several years, has formally announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for congress of the Fourth district. The announcement which was made here Monday afternoon by Lieut. Smith while he was in the city on business will come as a surprise to many of his friends in this county, although some have known that it was his ambition to some day represent his district in congress. While the nomination will not be made until the primaries next spring, Lieut. Smith stated that he decided to announce his candidacy at this time as he intends to conduct a thorough and vigorous campaign throughout the district.

"I have no hobbies," declared Mr. Smith in commenting on his entrance into district politics. "I have served the people all my life and it is my desire to serve my constituents for my friends have made me what I am. I intend to keep my campaign free of all promises, so that I will be at liberty to meet conditions as they arise and deal with them for the best interests of the public. Of course, I shall always be glad to advise with the public upon matters that belong to the public."

Mr. Smith unofficially announced his candidacy about a year ago in a French hospital where he was recovering from injuries sustained during his service as chaplain in the World War. During the period of treatment at the hospital he formed a warm friendship with a New York soldier who was recovering from wounds. During the conversations in which they engaged, the young New York soldier declared that it was his ambition to go to congress. Chaplain Smith also admitted that he cherished a similar desire. When Lieut. Smith was notified that he might leave the hospital, he hunted up his friend to bid him good-bye and his farewell greeting was: "I'll meet you in congress."

Lieut. Smith is a farmer by birth, but a minister and platform speaker by training and adoption. He was born in Indiana but his parents moved to Hoopeson, Ill., when he was quite small. After he reached young manhood he engaged in newspaper work at Hoopeson and Cissna. At the same time he attended college. Upon his graduation from college he was awarded a scholarship to Chicago University, but decided to enter at once into the Christian ministry and was called to the West Side Christian Church, Indianapolis. He built a new church home there and after a successful pastorate was called to Madison. Later he was called to this city and it was during his pastorate that the handsome new edifice of the Central Christian congregation was erected. The church was dedicated on December 30, and on January 29 he received his commission as chaplain with rank of lieutenant and was assigned to the 36th Engineers, Railroad Transportation. About two months later he was sent overseas and returned during the summer. He sustained injuries while in overseas service and upon his release from the French hospital was sent to this Business Methods and Standards of Practice Subject of Address at Weekly Luncheon.

ADDRESS BY C. W. WHITMAN

Short Talks Also Given by Ten Members—Charles Hardin Presides at The Meeting.

"Business Methods And Standards of Practice" was the subject of an interesting address delivered by T. S. Blish before the Rotarians today at their weekly luncheon at the New Lynn hotel. Charles Hardin presided at the meeting. The Rev. C. W. Whitman also gave a strong address on Christian Democracy in which he dealt with present day problems. Harry M. Miller gave a talk on a new insurance ruling and short talks were made by ten Rotarians.

"Success in business, the real and permanent success that continues through all time and eventually establishes itself as a thing safe against the attacks of avarice, jealousy, strike, pestilence and famine, can only be achieved by securing to itself a perpetuating chain of what traveling salesmen glibly call 'repeat orders,'" declared Mr. Blish in his introductory remarks. "That statement in itself," he continued, "is the essence or basis on which business methods and standards are built, for the successful business man is aware that without the repeat orders his business is only spreading itself at a dangerous cost and his organization engaged in what a certain confederate general once called

JACKSON TOWNSHIP FARMERS HOLD ANNUAL ELECTION

Organization Recommends That James Jackson be Appointed County Agricultural Agent.

The annual meeting of the Jackson township Farmers' Association was held at the Farmers' Club Saturday evening at which time the officers to serve for the ensuing year were named. Geo. F. Stahl was re-elected chairman, L. W. Richart, vice chairman and W. H. Booth, secretary and treasurer. About forty members were present and renewed their membership for another year.

The township association is a unit of the county organization and the county organization is represented in the state association. A meeting is being held at Chicago this week to perfect a national organization. Twenty states have organized and about sixty counties in this state have associations.

The Jackson township Farmers' Association is scheduled to meet the first Saturday night in each month at the Farmers' Club. Before closing the meeting Saturday an unanimous vote was taken endorsing James Jackson for county agricultural agent to take the place of A. E. Murphy whose term expires December 1. Mr. Murphy will engage in the insurance business in this city and is not a candidate for reappointment.

Several matters of importance were discussed.

YEAR OF PEACE BRINGS MANY ABRUPT CHANGES

Reconstruction in France.

Paris, Nov. 11—The change from an era of glory and suffering and heroics to the prosaic matter-of-fact daily routine of earning a living has been far too abrupt for the people of France.

So fundamentally was the life of every man, woman and child of France affected by the long struggle, that the one year since the signing of the armistice has proved to be too short a time for the readjustment of the mental processes. In their minds the people are living over the terrible days between August, 1914 and November, 1918. In many cases the people cannot realize that the war is

INDIANAPOLIS IS SELECTED

Ex-Soldiers Conduct Sessions in Typical Military Method—Permanent Headquarters.

By United Press
Minneapolis, Nov. 11—The American Legion, one year ago on the march to Berlin, marched in Minneapolis today. "Civvies" had replaced uniforms, pavement the mud, banners their arms and cheers the bursting shells.

Indianapolis was made the permanent headquarters of the American Legion after a close race with Washington which kept the delegates voting for more than an hour.

It was a day of rest for most of the legionnaires, who completed their organization yesterday. The Legion intends taking definite action on a number of important matters. It left these matters today to committees. The program called for presentation of committee reports Wednesday, but three were possibilities some might be called in at the brief session today.

There are twenty committees charged with formulating reports on the convention's attitude toward capital and labor, radicalism, Bolshevism, military training, care of disabled soldiers, homesteads, immigration and numerous other things. These will require debate.

With typical military method the ex-soldiers systematized the work to be accomplished, allotted minutes to each task and prepared to follow the program to the minute.

At 11 o'clock there was a silent moment of thanksgiving for the truce that came at that hour a year ago and remembrance for comrades who could not return from France. At 1:30 the parade was to start. The city was swathed in bunting and flags for the event.

NEW ERA INSTITUTE IS IN SESSION HERE

Thirty-five Delegates from New Albany Presbytery Attend the Meeting in This City.

Thirty-five delegates from various Presbyterian churches in the New Albany Presbytery were in attendance at the New Era institute which is in session at the First Presbyterian church today. Dr. William S. Holt, general secretary of the New Era Movement of the church, was the principal speaker at the afternoon session and tonight Dr. Holt and Dr. Colvin, of Columbus, O., will give addresses. The meeting tonight is open to the public and the friends as well as the members of the church are invited to attend. The meeting tonight will take the place of the regular mid-week service, the Rev. J. H. More, pastor, announced today. Many vital problems in connection with the New Era movement were presented for discussion at the session today.

"WE ARE AMERICANS," SAYS LEWIS IN RECALLING ORDER

MEDIATION OFFER BY THE PRESIDENT

Wilson to Propose Settlement of Difficulties With Striking Miners.

CABINET TO FORM PLAN

Chief Executive Ready to Talk Compromise at Soon as Men Get Back to Work.

By United Press.

Washington, November 11.—President Wilson probably will wire mine operators and United Mine Workers' officials today offering the services of the government in mediation of the difficulties which led to the strike, just called off by orders of the federal court.

The cabinet at its meeting today decided to issue an immediate call for both sides in the coal strike to meet to settle their differences. "I shall immediately call the miners and operators together," said Secretary of Labor Wilson as he left the meeting. He declared a new wage agreement would be negotiated.

Government agents were instructed to watch closely all fields to see whether the men would return to their jobs and whether "reds" were making an effort to control them. It was believed many of the miners would refuse to heed cancellation of the strike order, knowing their leaders took the action under protest and that "Bolsheviks, who are known to be in the coal fields, would seize the opportunity to impose their friendship on the miners."

The exact plan of campaign in event the miners ignore withdrawal of the strike call, is ready to be put into execution. It will take the form principally of extending protection of those who go want to resume work, herding trouble-makers out of the fields and preserving order.

The fact the union officials have complied with the court's order ends the court's responsibility, it was held here. Federal authorities now must see to it that civil war does not break out during this most critical period of the strike.

The nation's coal supply is very low, due to the tie-up of more than a week and mining records must be broken if a serious shortage is not to be experienced, it was learned. The most optimistic officials felt the miners would not be in a mood to break records.

Surrender of the strike leaders left the American Federation of Labor in an awkward position, it appeared today. Sunday night the executive council of the federation issued a statement pledging full support to the miners and denouncing the court. It now seems the federation will have nothing to support its stand unless it takes over control and direction of the mine strike despite the action of the miners' leaders. The possibility of this was being discussed here today.

The executive council of the American Federation of Labor was to meet again late today.

The council will discuss the decision of officials of the United Mine Workers to comply with the order of Judge Anderson.

A majority of the council believes the miners made a "grave mistake" in deciding to withdraw the strike order, one member of the executive council said here early today.

MINERS COMPLY WITH MANDATE

"We Cannot Fight Our Government," Declares Acting President in Announcing Union's Decision.

WALKOUT BELIEVED ENDED

Highest Officials of Organization Urge Men to Return to Work Without Further Delay.

By United Press.

Indianapolis, November 11—"We will comply with the mandate of the court. We do this under protest. 'We are Americans. We cannot fight our government.'"

This was the statement of Acting President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America, at the conclusion of a dramatic meeting of union heads here early today.

The conference which has been in session for more than eighteen hours adjourned at 4:15 a. m. In a voice shaken with emotion Lewis announced the words that will officially bring to a close the greatest industrial tieup in the history of the country. More than 400,000 bituminous coal miners will be affected by the strike which has been in progress since November 1.

Lewis plainly showed the strain under which he has been laboring for the last ten days. His face was lined and tired, his voice husky.

"There is no question about the strike of coal miners being ended," one of the highest officials of the United Mine Workers told the United Press. "We expect the men to obey the withdrawal order. All the power and influence of the union will be brought immediately to get the men to get to work. We expect arguments in some quarters for a few days, but we are confident union members will look at this in the same light we do."

The United Mine Workers of America has complied with the "order" demanding recall of the strike "in good faith" in the opinion of Judge Anderson.

The recall order was submitted to the judge shortly before 10 o'clock by attorneys for the miners. After looking over the order the judge said: "I think this is a good faith compliance with the order."

"That was the intention of the union officials," said Henry Warrum, counsel for the miners.

Throughout the night the conferees, one hundred six in all, strove to reach a decision as to whether the strike order should be recalled or the injunction ignored. Through the closed doors of the meeting room there came the sound of heated debate and at times the voices were loud and angry. The utmost secrecy was maintained by the conference conferees during the day and night. It was until adjournment was taken that Acting President Lewis consented to talk.

Agents for the department of justice were in evidence at the hotel during the meeting.

Following approval by Judge Anderson in federal court of the withdrawal order, Henry Warrum, chief counsel to the miners, informed Dan Sims, special assistant United States attorney representing the government, that the miners now look to the government and the operators to settle the wage controversy. The operators have repeatedly declared that they were ready to enter into negotiations with the miners if the strike order is withdrawn, Warrum said in addressing Sims.

"The government has taken the position that the strike order must be withdrawn before they can take any steps to compel resumption of such negotiations. The issues have been submitted to the court and in compliance with the court ruling the

FIRST BAPTIST REVIVAL.

A large crowd was in attendance last night despite the rain and cloudy weather.

The musical features were well up to the standard with a special introductory duet by Marian Crabb and Anna Holland Carter which gave the service a fine spiritual atmosphere from the beginning. Following these popular hymns greatly enthused the audience. Mrs. T. R. Carter sang a beautiful solo preceding the sermon.

Evangelist Hayworth spoke with his usual vigor and did not seem to show the effects of the strenuous work on Sunday preceding. He spoke on the question of amusements. Some pointed utterances in the sermon follow:

The prophet of God describes heaven as an ideal city on the streets of which boys and girls will be playing.

If you don't like children and music heaven is no place for you.

The exuberance of youth must find some fitting form of manifesting itself. There is a legitimate and natural play instinct in the life of a child.

It is a folly for the church to suppress this. The church in the past may have gone to the extreme in its attitude of hostility toward the play instinct.

Fun and amusement however must be made secondary to the achievement of character.

That famous Parisian who said 'I live for fun' represents a type of ambition too prevalent in the life of many today.

Play must be made the handmaid of work. Dance parties which hold over all night and use up the physical strength of young people are inherently sinful.

Anything which saps the vitality of body or mind for the greatest service should come under the ban of the Christian.

Paul said "Put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ and make no provision for the flesh to fulfill the lusts thereof."

Every organ of the human body has some sacred function and the body is designed to be the temple of the Holy Spirit.

It is the perverted use of the fleshly organ which brings disease and death.

The love instinct unsanctified and uncontrolled by the Divine Spirit degenerates into lust.

Any atmosphere which over stimulates the lawful passions into excessive use is evil and should be avoided. An immoral atmosphere and an evil current will inevitably endanger the moral and spiritual life of any who commit themselves to these influences.

The evangelist dramatically enforced this last point by a description of the eagle feasting on the carcass of a deer located on a block of ice which was drifting down the Niagara. The frigid atmosphere caused the mist to encase the talons in ice and when the eagle saw its danger was unable to extricate itself and went over the vortex to its destruction. Thus an evil atmosphere and a

Indiana Woman Tells of Experience

Laporte, Ind.—"Eighteen years ago I first became acquainted with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It was during expectancy and I was very frail and delicate. But the 'Favorite Prescription' strengthened me and I had a comparatively easy time. My baby was a strong, healthy girl and has always been fine and healthy. For the expectant mother I think there is nothing to equal 'Favorite Prescription.'"

"The 'Pleasant Pellets' I keep in my medicine closet for immediate use and feel that I couldn't keep house without them."

—MRS. MINNIE MCGREGOR, 612 Clement St.

Could Not Sleep

La Fayette, Ind.—"A short time ago I was in a terribly nervous condition so that I could not sleep at night. I would have simply dreadful nightmares. My druggist recommended Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The first half bottle cured me of my nervousness and made me able to sleep at night just as quiet as a child. It also relieved me of periodical suffering which used to bother me a great deal. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a grand tonic for women and I do not hesitate to recommend it."

—MRS. CHAS. COLEMAN, 631 Ferry St.

Frankfort, Ind.—"When living in Kirkersville, Ohio, I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I was always complaining. Nervousness troubled me, caused, I think, by woman's weakness. This medicine was recommended to me and I thought I would try it. I found results good; it certainly helped me. I will recommend it to anybody."

—MRS. CARRIE HEADLEE, 451 E. Barner St.

Women who are worn out, who are nervous or dizzy at times, should take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, in liquid or in tablets. Send Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., 10c. for trial package.

'shelling the woods' from which no lasting benefit can come.

"To secure repeat orders the first transaction must by the satisfaction rendered the purchaser call for another purchase and it in turn must carry to the buyer that same contentment of mind and thus draw the third and succeeding ventures." Mr. Blish emphasized that there are three essentials in business, namely, courtesy, honesty and service. The address was well received as embodying practical business suggestions from an experienced and successful business man.

RED CROSS DRIVE TO BE CONTINUED

Campaign Will Continue Throughout

This Week Owing to The Inclement Weather.

COUNTY WILL BE CANVASSED

County Expected to Go Over The Top

In Third Red Cross Roll Call During This Week.

James Harold More, manager of the Third Red Cross Roll Call in Jackson county announced today that the drive which was to have ended today will be continued for another week in order that persons living in rural districts and those who have not heretofore had an opportunity to join will be able to do so. It is pointed out that the rainy weather which prevailed last week prevented workers throughout the county from getting over the districts assigned to them.

Mr. More stated today that the campaign in Seymour is practically over as all of the districts have been solicited by Red Cross workers. However, persons who have not been approached by a worker and desire to join will have an opportunity to do so the remainder of this week.

The fact that fifty per cent. of the receipts in the county go to the local Red Cross chapter to be used for local charity work has caused many to join and it is believed that the membership will be largely increased during this week. Mr. More will make a tour of the county in order to get all of the rural district workers who were unable to get around last week at work during the next few days. The final report of the county will be made a week from today.

BELMA RUTH PURKHISER DIES THIS MORNING

Grief Over Tragic Death of Father Which Occurred Three Months Ago Causes Illness.

Belma Ruth, five-year-old daughter of Mrs. Zarita Purkhiser, died at 12:50 this morning following a several days serious illness, age 5 years. The deceased was born December 11, 1913.

The little girl had been ill for several days past and was taken to Cincinnati to a specialist last week who pronounced her case diabetes. However, members of the family believe that her illness was brought on by her grief over the tragic death of her father, J. Claude Purkhiser, which occurred three months ago when he was killed in a railroad accident.

Besides the bereaved mother, the deceased is survived by a little sister, Loretta May Purkhiser, together with several other relatives and many little friends. The funeral will be held from the Central Christian church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. W. E. Carroll, pastor of the church conducting the obsequies. Interment will be in River-view cemetery.

Jason Martin, of Brownstown was a business visitor in the city today.

"THE WORLD AFLAME" OFFERS SOLUTION TO DOMESTIC HELP PROBLEM

The housewife's appeal for domestic help today is like unto the ancient "cry from Macedonia." One might almost be convinced that domestic servants were extinct. What is the reason for this state of affairs?

In "The World Aflame," a special Frank Keenan production which shows today at the Majestic Theatre, we are to be offered what is said to be a safe and sane solution to the most burning problems of the moment. It is claimed for "The World Aflame" that this tremendously gripping and vital photoplay will tell you the whole reason for the Bolshevik propaganda and other foreign importations designed especially to disturb American labor's peace of mind. But this photoplay is no preaching either on behalf of capital or on behalf of labor; It tells the story of how an aggressive and forceful mayor checkmated an incipient revolution in his city and pointed out to both employers and employees alike how, by "getting together" in brotherly fashion, all of their differences might be amicably adjusted.

Mrs. Dan O'Mara went to Cincinnati this morning to spend the day.

SEYMOUR MAN IS HIGHLY ENTHUSED

"I Simply Feel Fine, Since Taking Trutona," Cox Gratefully Avers

REALLY ENJOYING MEALS

Local Man Declares Perfect Tonic Has Made Eating a Pleasure For Him.

Seymour, Ind., Nov. 10—Earnest G. Cox, 416 Carter Street, an employee of the Seymour Furniture Manufacturing Co., in describing his experience with Trutona, the perfect tonic, says:

"For more than a year I have suffered from liver and kidney troubles, indigestion has bothered me for the past four months. Severe pains in my back and sides prevented me from sleeping soundly at night, causing me to waken often. It seemed that I couldn't eat much of anything without having to suffer severe pains in my stomach. I felt tired and draggy all the time and just had to force myself to work.

"Well sir, the first meal I've actually enjoyed in the past four months I ate last Sunday. And it's also the first time in that period that I haven't suffered from the after effects of eating. The pains in my sides and back have entirely disappeared and I sleep soundly the whole night through now. I'd tried a good many medicines, but it wasn't until I'd taken Trutona that I got relief I needed. I simply feel fine now."

Of all the maladies that afflict mankind chronic dyspepsia or indigestion is perhaps the most prevalent. In Trutona sufferers from this trouble have a medicine that in thousands of cases has given prompt relief. Trutona goes directly to the seat of the trouble, performing its work as quickly as well can be done.

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Seymour at W. L. Federmann's Drug Store.

strike order has been cancelled and withdrawn. It seems to me that in good faith on the part of the operators requires them to meet the miners' representatives at once for the purpose of negotiating a settlement of this wage controversy and that good faith on the part of the government requires it to see that such resumption of negotiations is started at once and concluded without delay."

It is known that Warrum stated the attitude of John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers, and other officials.

A meeting of the members of the executive council of the union, the scale committee of the central competitive district and district presidents was called for 2 o'clock today when the proposition of negotiating a new wage scale will be considered.

Feature at Princess Tomorrow. A Notable Director.

Marshall Neilan, director of "Out of a Clear Sky," Marguerite Clark's newest photoplay which is on view at the Princess theatre tomorrow, is one of the foremost directors in the country. Mr. Neilan directed Mary Pickford in many of her recent picture successes and his direction has a distinctive quality which is more than ever apparent in "Out of a Clear Sky," the beauty of which must be seen to be appreciated. The story is a capital one and presents Miss Clark in an unusually attractive characterization, that of a Belgian countess who is involved in a political game abroad and to avoid a distasteful marriage escapes to find love in this country. The support is excellent.

Each lady attending the matinee tomorrow will be given a beautiful photograph in folder of Miss Clark.

Mrs. L. R. Huffer accompanied her daughter here yesterday from Indianapolis, where she underwent a serious operation some time ago, in a hospital there. She is slowly improving.

YEAR OF PEACE BRINGS MANY ABRUPT CHANGES

puttees to civilian clothes has not been accompanied by a complete mental demobilization.

A very noticeable let-down in human effort has marked the past year. This has been especially true among the women—the mothers and wives of the fighters. Many women who endured war's hardships without complaint and with unceasing work have been compelled to take long rests, many even have been sickly ever since the war strain was so suddenly removed. Statistics show that the number of women treated in French hospitals was much greater during the year following the armistice than during the year preceding the armistice. Doctors are agreed that this condition has been due to the violent reaction following the very long period when the womanhood of France—no less than the poilu—was fighting the Hun.

The cost of living has not ceased to mount. Practically every article of food and clothing is much more expensive than one year ago. The public which had so long expected prices to decrease when the fighting ended has been sadly disillusioned. Now it is stated that the high prices are here to stay.

For the first time in more than five years, new buildings are being constructed throughout Paris and France. The painting of buildings has also been commenced in wholesale fashion.

The greatest efforts are being put forth to remove the worn and dirty aspect which war service gave to French cities. Streets, houses, parks and monuments are receiving the first attention since 1914. The work of removing the city wall which has hindered the expansion of Paris has begun. The extensive ground area heretofore taken up by the wall and the surrounding moat will be turned over to commercial as well as residential purposes.

Reconstruction work in the devastated region has been confined to a very great extent to the rebuilding of railroads, bridges, roads and canals. The rebuilding of cities and towns, as well as the restoration of the fields torn by trenches will be carried on as soon as sufficient laborers are available. France is awaiting the arrival of workers from Germany. A hundred thousand recruits for this work have also been promised by Poland.

Now, Bill, there's a big difference in cigars, even though there is no difference in the price. Take this LA FENDRICH. I went through the big Fendrich factory in Evansville the other day—biggest in Indiana—biggest in the world under one roof. Saw the stock come in direct from Havana where their own men pick it out. Saw them aging and mellowing it under real Cuban climatic conditions and roll it by hand into a cigar as fine as you get in the City of Havana at a bigger price. I smoked one and have been smoking the LA FENDRICH ever since. After all, Bill, country and became a patient at the government hospital at West Baden. Upon his release from there he was assigned to transport duty and received his discharge five weeks ago. Since that time he has been engaged in Red Cross work.

Mr. Smith has received a call as pastor of a Christian church in Baltimore, but refused it so that he might return to his home in Madison, where he owns a residence. He will spend part of his time during the next six months in lecture work of which he has made a specialty for several years. In addition to his pastoral duties he has delivered many lectures and commencement addresses.

Lieut. Smith says that he has received much encouragement from his friends who have learned that he was considering the congressional race. He declares that he will carry his campaign into every part of the district and that the formation of his organization is already well under way.

The Tug of Life and Death

Two warring forces—the red blood cells and the white blood cells—are always contending for mastery—in the blood. They are the processes of building up and tearing down. During youth the building-up process of the red blood cells is in the ascendency so that the tendency of the body is all towards growth and development. As middle age approaches the two forces tend to equality while with the coming of old age, the victory of the tearing down process of the white blood cells is manifested by the slow, gradual decay of the vital energies.

REOLO Makes Rich Red Blood

Oxygen is the life giver—necessary to maintain life. REOLO absorbs the oxygen from the air in the lungs and carries it into the blood—rapidly oxidizing the red blood cells—and increasing the amount of hemoglobin in the blood, sending through the entire body a stream of rich, vitalized, health-giving blood that nourishes every cell, of the nerves, tissues, brain and bones.

By special arrangement with the Dr. A. L. Reusing Laboratories, we have been appointed licensees for the distribution of "REOLO" direct from the laboratories. Each package is certified by Dr. A. L. Reusing, and sold under a positive guarantee of satisfactory results or we will gladly refund your money. Large box of REOLO (containing 100 tablets,) only costs $1.00.

A New England.

London, Nov. 11—From England's first year of peace, with its unrest, its nervous haste back to peace conditions, its feat of fitting three and a half million soldiers back into industry, rises one large fact:

England has become a new England.

Four and a half years of fighting, of war pressure at home, have effected a change in the people and country that is fundamental—a change that now stands revealed, that the confusion of war has lifted.

Culminating in a great industrial war to block what labor regarded as a first move to restore the old pre-war wage level and standard of life, the first twelve months of peace have demonstrated time and again how deep this transformation is, how the nation's outlook on life has altered.

In Flanders and France, Englishmen of all ranks and classes unwittingly got themselves made over—in their ways of thinking, their personal discipline, and their capacity for doing things.

The past year has shown their determination to carry these new standards into their peace-time lives.

At home, conditions and customs, industrial instruments and methods had been moving, too. Towards the end of the war, some two million Americans, in England for varying periods, helped move things a little further.

Not until all was over and the prospect arose of taking up the old peace-time pursuits again, did England realize how much it had changed. A large part of the population decided then they did not want to go back to the old.

Of the million women war workers thrown out of employment by the stoppage of munition plants after the Armistice, all but about 70,000 have now found jobs in peace industries (or in homes). Some found work through actual expansion of plants to a new level of production, others through renewal of industries almost suspended during the war. Still others this morning are in vocations which hardly existed here before the war such as aircraft production, manufacture of toys (where 20,000 women are busy today, preparing for Christmas) electrical appliances, automobiles, etc.—industries formerly dwarfed by German competition.

Germany Views Peace as Mockery.

Berlin, Nov. 11—One year of peace. A bitter mockery, says Germany today on the anniversary of the great war's end.

It has been a year of aught but peace for her.

And, she looks out into the uncertain vista of the future with misgiving. She fears that it is the old cry of peace! peace! when there is no peace. She shrinks before the realities. For they spoil for her, perhaps a further plunge into the chasm of moral, physical, economic disintegration which has marked the Teuton course.

Conclusion of one year of peace found the nation today uncomfortably close to national bankruptcy. It found her with a laboring class, unchained from the grind of the past, now unwilling to work—and in many cases unable for want of the raw materials. It found her with a government which despite good intentions and hard efforts has been unable to progress materially. And, too, it found her with internal strife, with political haulings and pullings, with strivings after monarchy and with strivings after proletarian dictatorship, in short, with a confusion and a moral breakdown which threatens before the winter dies to flame out in new civil upheavals with possible bloodshed or with further industrial stagnation.

The pendulum here has swung from the redism of last November's revolution to move moderation, it is true. And, there have been signs that the ultra-conservatism of the Pan-Germans would sweep back into power. The air is filled with rumors of putsches.

One side says, "The monarchists will overthrow the government, and put a Hindenburg or even a Hohenzollern in power." The other says, "The Spartacists plan trouble. They will bathe the land in blood again to establish their rule of the proletariat."

And both sides speak with some degree of truth. For certain it is that the extreme right and the extreme left are bent on establishing a new order of things, while the present Ebert-Bauer-Mueller government, formed of majority socialists, centrists and democrats, banks on Noske and his iron guards to keep Germany in order.

T. A. Ackley, Baltimore & Ohio engineer and Thomas Hill, firemen, went to Madison this morning where they were called as witnesses in the case of Hinstaff vs. Baltimore & Ohio railroad company which is being tried here today. The case developed out of an accident which occurred several months ago when a relative of the plaintiff was killed when he drove in front of a train in an automobile. Engineer Ackley and Firemen Hill were on the engine that collided with the automobile causing the man's death.

Dr. L. D. Robison went to North Vernon this morning

FLU CAUSES SIX DEATHS IN CHICAGO

The weekly bulletin of the health department issued yesterday, shows that six persons died in Chicago last week as result of influenza. Dr. W. A. Evans, health authority and writer of Chicago, last week, predicted that the world would again be swept by an epidemic of influenza far more severe than last year, when thousands of lives were lost. One thing is sure, that is, the warm weather this fall has kept the epidemic down, but as colder weather approaches, influenza is liable to break out any time. Dr. Brady says: "No one has as yet discovered a positive method of diagnosing early cases of influenza from alleged 'colds.'" The utmost care should be taken, therefore not to catch cold, for colds weaken the resistance to influenza germs.

Doctors seem to agree that it is much easier to prevent influenza than to cure it. The secret of preventing influenza is to keep the germs from lodging and developing in the respiratory organs—the mouth, nose and throat. No one should be allowed to breathe in your face because the germs are often transmitted in this manner.

Influenza can be prevented, last year's results prove that. As a preventive for flu, Turpo has been a pronounced success. Turpo is an effective germicide, combining the old-fashioned remedies of turpentine (which has always been known as the best home germicide), camphor and menthol in a pure mineral base. These ingredients have long been recognized as effective germicides, as well as having really wonderful qualities in relieving colds and congestions. Snuff a little Turpo up the nostrils several times a day, and the flu germs will have little chance of getting a lodging and breeding place. Many physicians and hospitals use and recommend Turpo.

Prepare now. Buy a thirty-cent jar of Turpo, while your druggist has a supply on hand, and use as directed. Last year druggists could not supply the demand. Remember that Turpo is a preventive, not a cure for influenza. Take care of yourself.

of unrest, still full of disquieting rumors and ominous signs. The war gave the world such a shaking up that it is finding it extremely difficult to get back to its old orderly, even going way. Mamba it will wobble back some time. It must be admitted, however, that it has not made much progress in that direction in the year that has elapsed since the signing of the armistice.

WORKS HARD TO AVERT FLU EPIDEMIC

Government and City Health Officials Warn People to Keep Clean.

Stay Away from People with Coughs and Colds.

"Avoid crowds if you want to avoid influenza," says Association for Improving the Conditions of New York.

Keep your hands clean, drink plenty of fresh water; sleep with windows open; eat three uniform meals a day including a good breakfast.

People who have catarrh or frequent colds invite influenza, declares a prominent Kentucky druggist.

The membrane of the throat and nose is raw, sore and tender, and makes a lovely abiding place for germs to thrive and multiply.

He advises an inexpensive home-made remedy that will bring relief in less than a day and will stop all discharge and soothe and heal the inflamed membrane in a few days.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Pour three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and snuff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy.

Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholized Arcine in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce, which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.
